Nowadays, it is practically impossible to find a book, website or even a software that doesn't have text translated. It is much easier to communicate with people around the world than with people who are not native speakers. If you are forced to use your own language in daily life, it is much harder to learn a new language. Translating will make it possible to communicate with those who speak a different language and will enable you to understand them by reading any text or document. With jalada, you will be able to easily translate any text without feeling stuck, as we will give you the best translation results. Why Just Translate? If your goal is to create your own language packs or the dictionary, then you have to make use of all the features of the application. It is much simpler and faster to translate using jalada than to create your own
