Another popular Photoshop feature for the year ahead is Image Matching. Continue building on the powerful features of Lightroom, Lightroom Classic or Lightroom CC, Image Matching from Photoshop is a powerful tool to finally bring together JPEG files together for editing purposes. Photoshop has the awesome feature of using fantastic brushes, and vases are used for that job all the time. However, one such unique tool from Photoshop that is trying to make an impact on the world is Character Brushes. Character Brushes are user-customized brushes that allow you to create your own brushstrokes using your favorite cartoon characters, movie characters, or even the tools like the one above. If you use Photoshop, you must try these brushes for new experience. Some Photoshop updates for the year ahead include the new screen corners and you'll find a completely redesigned workspace that comes with a new revamped user interface and menu design. It's a great change done for the better and it's going to enhance your work experience, if you want more of that. The updates will include new brushes, font options, adjustment layers, filters and even the broadened emoji library. However, one of the most liked features in some of the previous updates are the Lens Corrections. Your work is going to fly! Mind blowing and innovative Photoshop updates for the year ahead include new reduction guides and the ability to apply lens correction presets to photos. The new Lens Correction tool and its presets will have bigger effect in the long run. Surprisingly, the Adobe team has once again done a wonderful job in making Photoshop on macOS faster and better.
